Botanical Gardens Site of Monument to Hero of Gettysburg.

Survounded by gray-haired veteran of the battle that marked he turning point in the civil war, and a distinguished crowd of government officials. President Harding yesterday broke the first ground on the site in the Botanical Gardens where is to be erected a monument to Gen. George Gordon Meade, commander-in-chief of the Union Army in the battle of Gettysburg.

A drizzling rain which had been falling on the assemblage subsided s President Harding turned the first bit of earth. The spade he used was the historic implement that had been used to begin the Grant and Lincoln memorials.

Other Officials Turn Earth

Five other notables followed the President in breaking ground for e memorial. They were Gov. George Gordon Meade, grandson of the famous soldier; Secretary John W. Weeks, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles and Chief Justice William H. Mrs. Harding, Gen. Pershing and
